Data Protection Policy

Introduction

Compass Immigration Services (CIS) is a Limited Liability Partnership registered by the Office of the Immigration Services Commissioner (OISC) and is authorised to provide immigration advice and services at Level 1 in the categories of Asylum & Protection and Immigration.

The personal data that CIS processes to provide these services relates to its clients and other individuals as necessary, including staff and suppliers' staff.

This policy sets out CIS's commitment to ensuring that any personal data that CIS processes, including special category personal data, is carried out in compliance with data protection law. CIS ensures that good data protection practice is imbedded in the culture of its business.

CIS ensures that prospective clients as well as any other individuals have access to privacy notices on its website and attached to client care letters.

'Data Protection Law' includes the General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679, the UK Data Protection Act 2018 and all relevant EU and UK data protection legislation.

Scope

This policy applies to all personal data processed by CIS and is part of CIS's approach to compliance with data protection law. All CIS partners are expected to comply with this policy.

Data protection principles

CIS complies with the data protection principles set out below. When processing personal data, it ensures that:

- it is processed lawfully, fairly and in a transparent manner in relation to the data subject ('lawfulness, fairness and transparency');
- it is collected for specified, explicit, and legitimate purposes and not further processed in a manner that is incompatible with those purposes ('purpose limitation');
- it is adequate, relevant, and limited to what is necessary in relation to the purposes for which they are processed ('data minimisation');
- it is accurate and, where necessary, kept up to date; and reasonable steps will be taken to ensure that personal data that are inaccurate, having regard to the purposes for which they are processed, are erased or rectified without delay ('accuracy');
- it is kept in a form which permits identification of data subjects for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which the personal data are processed ('storage limitation');
- it is processed in a manner that ensures appropriate security of the personal data, including protection against unauthorised or unlawful processing and against accidental loss, destruction or damage, using appropriate technical or organisational measures ('integrity and confidentiality').

CIS will facilitate any request from a data subject who wishes to exercise their rights under data protection law as appropriate, always communicating in a concise, transparent, intelligible and easily accessible form and without undue delay.

Process/procedures/guidance

CIS will:

- ensure that the legal basis for processing personal data is identified in advance and that all processing complies with the law;
- not do anything with your data that you would not expect given the content of this policy and the fair processing or privacy notice;
- ensure that appropriate privacy notices are in place advising clients and others how and why their data is being processed, and, in particular, advising data subjects of their rights;
- only collect and process the personal data that it needs for purposes it has identified in advance;
- ensure that, as far as possible, the personal data it holds is accurate, or a system is in place for ensuring that it is kept up to date as far as possible;
- retain personal data only for as long as it is needed after which time CIS will securely erase or delete the personal data (CIS will hold client personal data for 6 years in accordance with statutory requirements);
- ensure that appropriate security measures are in place so that personal data can only be accessed by those who require access and ensure that it is held and transferred securely.

CIS will ensure that all partners who handle personal data on its behalf are aware of their responsibilities under this policy and other relevant data protection and information security policies, and that they are adequately trained.

Obtaining (including accessing) or disclosing personal data in breach of CIS's data protection policies may be a criminal offence.

Data Subject Rights

CIS has processes in place to ensure that it can facilitate any request made by an individual to exercise their rights under data protection law. All partners have received training and are aware of the rights of data subjects. Partners can identify such a request and know who to send it to.

All requests will be considered without undue delay and within one month of receipt as far as possible.

Subject access: the right to request information about how personal data is being processed, including whether personal data is being processed and the right to be allowed access to that data and to be provided with a copy of that data along with the right to obtain the following information:

- the purpose of the processing
- the categories of personal data
- the recipients to whom data has been disclosed or which will be disclosed
- the retention period
- the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office
- the source of the information if not collected direct from the subject, and
- the existence of any automated decision making

Rectification: the right to allow a data subject to rectify inaccurate personal data concerning them.

Erasure: the right to have data erased and to have confirmation of erasure, but only where:

- the data is no longer necessary in relation to the purpose for which it was collected, or
- where consent is withdrawn, or
- where there is no legal basis for the processing, or
- there is a legal obligation to delete data

Restriction of processing: the right to ask for certain processing to be restricted in the following circumstances:

- if the accuracy of the personal data is being contested, or
- if our processing is unlawful but the data subject does not want it erased, or
- if the data is no longer needed for the purpose of the processing but it is required by the data subject for the provision of immigration and asylum & protection services, or
- if the data subject has objected to the processing, pending verification of that objection

Data portability: the right to receive a copy of personal data which has been provided by the data subject and which is processed by automated means in a format which will allow the individual to transfer the data to another data controller. This would only apply if CIS was processing the data using consent or on the basis of a contract.

Object to processing: the right to object to the processing of personal data relying on the legitimate interests processing condition unless CIS can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override the interests of the data subject or for the provision of immigration and asylum & protection services.

Special category personal data

This includes the following personal data revealing:

- racial or ethnic origin
- political opinions
- religious or philosophical beliefs
- trade union membership
- the processing of genetic data, biometric data for the purpose of uniquely identifying a natural person
- an individual's health
- a natural person's sex life or sexual orientation
- criminal convictions or offences

CIS processes special category data of clients and third parties as is necessary to provide immigration and asylum & protection services.

This policy sets out the safeguards we believe are appropriate to ensure that we comply with the data protection principles set out above.

Responsibility for the processing of personal data

The partners of CIS hold responsibility for data protection.
